Discovery Channel NCIS show films Tripler pathologist

Discovery Channel's NCIS television program's cameraman Stefan Wiesen videotapes a session at Tripler Army Medical Center morgue on Feb. 14. The show, to be aired later this year, recounts the shooting death of a Marine sentry at Makalapa Gate at Pearl Harbor over ten years ago. Retired Navy Criminal Investigative Service agent Steve Madison, who helped solve the case, re-enacted the investigative process, including a visit to the Tripler morgue and interviewing the Army pathologist, re-enacted here by Tripler pathologist Lt. Col. (Dr.) Christina Belnap. –US Army photos by Leslie Ozawa
